PERSONAL AND SOCIETY.

[All society and personal notes for the Sunday issue of the Journal, to secure publication, must be in the hands of the city editor by Saturday noon.]

A color contest is agitating the social world, and, instead of an immediate decision, the interest in the matter is increasing. The colors are yellow and gray, and for a gown one must have one of dove gray broadcloth for such social gatherings as afternoon receptions, 4-o'clock teas or calls. The material presents much in the way of draperies, and artistic straight effects are sought. Rich trimmings may be used, and these often amount to as much portant item about a new gown. To be considered a la mode the gray broadcloth must be one of the indispensible adjuncts of every tashionable woman's wardrobe. The other color, yellow, must be the tone for a whole or part of the embellishment for every entertainment, and often the only color used is yellow. At this season, when chrysanthemums are in perfection and, with Marechal Niel roses and draperies of yellow, it is not difficult to make a room perfect in its decorations. If any one has wealth a vase full of the yellow orchids, like those seen at the chrysanthemum show, would call for great admiration. As to orchids, can anything be more beautiful than those of delicate tone of the old-fashioned magentacolors? Blossoms like them were shown at the exhibit, and sold for $20

There are fears expressed that the holiday season will not be the gay and festive time it ought to be, if everybody entertains now. At the rate social matters have been hurried during the past four weeks, people who are in the circles have not had time to do anything but accept invitations. Among the events of the past week were the 4-o'clock tea, given Tuesday afternoon, by Mrs. A. B. Gates and Mrs. Hewitt Howland for their guests, Mrs. and Miss Dickinson, of Cincinnati, and the large dancing party, the same evening, by Mr. and Mrs. Gates and Mr. and Mrs. Howland. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Maine, the same night, inaugurated a season of parlor charades, inviting quite a large party of friends thereto. The Grace Cathedral people gave a concert at Plymouth Church, and had for special attractions Mr. and Mrs. Langell, vocalists, of Cleveland, O. The large party given Wednesday night, by Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Fishback and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Milligan, was one of the notable social events of this potable season. The Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Society gave a 3-o'clock tea, at the residence of Mrs. George W. Stout, the ladies of the second section being the entertainers. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett were at home for their first reception since their marriage, and a large number of friends called The Matinee Musicale gave an invitation concert for the evening, and there was a large audience. Thursday the German Ladies' Aid Society opened their fair at Mænnerchor Hall. Friday Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cook gave a card party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Louis T. Michener, and teas. dinners and luncheons have also followed each other in rapid succession throughout
